

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The Beggar.

A little love stole through the dusk,
Crept wraith-like through the gloom;
Until he reached the empty hearth
Within my lonely room.

He was so cold—therefore I made
Him to keep him warm,
So fearful—could I do aught else
Than shelter him from harm?

But when my gifts of warmth and cheer
Had cleared his wistful brow,
He flew away with all I had—
"I am beggared now!"

—Charlotte Becker, in November
Annals.

IN COMMON THINGS.

By MINOT J. SAVAGE.

Minot Judson Savage was born at Norridgewood, Me., June 12, 1841. He is pastor of the Church of the Messiah in New York City. He attended college, but did not go there. He was graduated from Bangor Theological Seminary in 1864, and was given the degree of Doctor of Divinity by Harvard in 1892. He has been pastor at Framingham, Mass., Framingham, Me., and for more than twenty years at the Church of the Unity in Boston. He has written many religious books and essays, making a special study of the relations of religion to science. He is a member of the American Psychological Society, and in his book, "Psychic Facts and Theories," gives the result of his investigations of spiritualism. The "Unity" refers to chapter III, verse 2, of Exodus, in the Bible: "And the angel of the Lord appeared unto him (Moses) in a flame of fire, out of the midst of a bush."

SEEK not afar for beauty. Lo! it glows
In dew-dew grasses all about thy feet;
In birds, in sunshine, childish faces sweet,
In stars, and mountain summits topped with snows.

Go not abroad for happiness. For, see!
It is a flower that blossoms by thy door,
Bring love and justice home; and then no more
Thou'lt wonder in what dwelling joy may be.

Dream not of noble service elsewhere wrought:
The simple duty that awaits thy hand
Is God's voice uttering a divine command;
Life's common deeds build all that saints have thought.

In wonder-workings, or some bush aflame,
Men look for God, and fancy Him concealed;
But in earth's common things He stands revealed,
While grass and flowers and stars spell out His name.

The paradise men seek, the city bright
That gleams beyond the stars for longing eyes,
Is only human goodness in the skies.
Earth's deeds, well done, glow into heavenly light.

Opening Social Event of the Season Friday Afternoon.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BLACKSBURG, Va., October 15.—The opening social event of the season, Friday evening, October 15th, in the gymnasium of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, was the first of the series of gowns given during each session under the auspices of the German Club, and may be considered the formal opening of the social season of this well-known college. Although not as many couples took part as are to be seen at the Thanksgiving, mid-winter and Easter dances, owing to the absence of so many of the girls at school and college whose presence lends charm to these occasions, those who were so fortunate as to be present found nothing wanting to add to their pleasure. The college orchestra furnished delightful music for the dancers, and at midnight the dancing was suspended.

Mr. J. de la Cova, the club leader for this year, led the couples through a number of pretty and novel figures, his partner being Miss Desha Elliott, of Christiansburg. In dancing some of the couples were wearing white china silk lace. The chaperones of the evening were Colonel and Mrs. Johnson, Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Newman and Professor and Mrs. Sawyer.

The belles of the party were Miss Annie Henderson, Richmond, white organdie, with Herbert Whitehurst; Miss Pauline Embrace, Buena Vista, flowered organdie, with R. M. Evers; Miss Annie Henderson, Blacksburg, white organdie, with A. W. Grant; Miss Elizabeth Kipp, Blacksburg, flowered organdie over pink silk, with E. H. Gibson; Miss Lily Taylor, Blacksburg, net over pink, with Taylor Garnett; Miss Maynard, Taylor, South Carolina, white chiffon over pink silk, with H. C. Frothingham; Miss Bessie Lyle, Radford, flowered organdie, lavender trimmings, with R. M. Evers; Miss Bessie Lyle, Radford, flowered organdie, lavender trimmings, with R. M. Evers; Miss Bessie Lyle, Radford, flowered organdie, lavender trimmings, with R. M. Evers.

For Business Opportunities ADVERTISE IN Tee-Dee Want Ads.

Minnie Flowers, blue mull and lace, with A. B. Gulton; Miss Nellie McBryde, Lexington, ceru silk, light blue trimmings, with C. Williams; Miss Fitzhugh, Pulaski, gray chiffon over rose silk, with D. Humphreys.

The stars were H. H. Ferrel, A. D. Williams, T. D. Hobart, W. B. Oatesby, H. H. Wilson, W. T. Montague, W. B. Meeks, H. H. Gary, Junior B. Lamb, M. P. Watt, David Cloyd, Stockton, J. M. Jr., Major T. G. Wood and Colonel W. M. Brodie.

ASHLAND NEWS.

Preparations Being Made There for President Roosevelt.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ASHLAND, Va., October 15.—The Franklin Society of Randolph-Macon College is giving discussion to current subjects in its debates, and interestingly extended the same to Saturday night. The subject of debate last night was, "Resolved, That the dramatization of the Chastanaut is harmful to the South."

Lively debate took place in which Messrs. T. M. Harris and L. G. Harrell, of the affirmative, and L. G. Harrell and W. D. Ellis, of the negative, spoke. The decision of the judges was in favor of the affirmative. Messrs. J. S. Keene and B. L. Ellis, of the affirmative, and Messrs. J. C. Robertson, J. G. Sawyer and C. Stebbins, Jr., declared.

An entertainment will be given in the College Chapel on October 27th for the benefit of athletes. Mr. N. Floyd Pennington, the eminent violinist, will be the drawing cards.

Mrs. L. N. Vaughan and family will move to Ashland for the winter to-morrow and their home in the country near here, "Passadena," will be closed.

Miss Clara Cook returned today on a visit to Lynchburg. She will direct the assembling school children to greet President Roosevelt in Ashland next Wednesday.

President Blackwell, of the college, returned yesterday from Washington. Arrangements have been made for President Roosevelt to address the students of Randolph-Macon College from the rear platform of his train Wednesday afternoon. President Blackwell has requested the students to act as a guard in handling the crowd that may be present.
